DARKNESS OF THE ARCTIC WINTER. The larger part of February we lived principally upon birds, and in March commenced to catch seals. Through George's Church, New York that month we supported ourselves on bears and seals-flesh, wasting neither skin nor entralis. We collected enough food in this way to last us until the mid-dle of May, had we not been driven to sea by a strong westerly gale in the latter part of March—our floe piece being then reduced from five miles in cirinference to about twenty yards in diameter. We left the piece on the first of April, and abandoned part of our meat, a large amount of ammunition, clothing, skins, and other articles, taking a por-tion of the meat in the boat, which we
